Getting lost

Mr Brown was a tourist. Last week he came to visit Hong Kong but he did not know where to go. Then he went to the tourist information centre and talked to the receptionist. He asked, 'Can you recommend some places for me to visit in Hong Kong?' The receptionist replied, 'Em.....Oh, you can go to Tsim Sha Tsui. You can visit the Avenue of Stars. You can take a lot of pretty photos there. You can also visit Harbour City and go shopping there. You can get there by MTR.'

Mr Brown did not know the way to the MTR station so he asked, 'Excuse me, how do you get to the MTR station?' The receptionist replied, 'Go out of the hotel, go straight ahead, turn right and go straight ahead again. The MTR station is opposite the clinic. It's on your right.' Mr Brown said thank you to the receptionist and left the hotel. When he was walking on the street, he got lost and forgot to bring the map. He thought, ' I'm lost! What should I do?' He felt worried and started sweating.

Then, he used his mobile phone to search Google Maps. He whispered, 'I'm near the MTR station. I will follow the route of Google Maps.'

At last, he arrived at the Avenue of stars. He took a lot of pretty photos and went shopping at Harbour City. He was delighted.
