Lily's resolution

Lily loved watching TV. She watched TV for 6 hours a day. She never did revision in the test week so she always failed her test.

One day, Lily got her poor result in the test. Her performance was really bad because she failed all her tests. She felt sad and didn't want her mum to know the result. She tried to hide the test paper.

When Mum got back home, it was very late. Mum asked Lily about the test result. Lily didn't want to show the paper so Mum took out the paper from the school bag by herself. Mum was very angry and said, 'You fail all the tests! I'm so disappointed with you!' Lily said, 'I'm sorry, Mum.' Mum said, 'You ought to watch less TV, do more revision and study for your tests. Then you won't fail your tests again.'

Then Lily stopped watching TV. She studied hard for the upcoming tests and passed all the tests. She was excited because it was her first time to pass. Mum was proud of her and bought an ice-cream for her as a treat.
